Troops Round Up Part of Bengal Insurgent Band

Twelve of Those Who Attacked Chittagong Arsenal East of Calcutta, Killed by Soldiers; Fourteen Arrested; Main Body of Insurgents Hunted; At Peshawar, in Northwest, Gandhi Men Kill Soldier; Riot and Arrests at Calcutta.

Canadian Press

Calcutta, April 23.—Officials announced to-day that twelve insurgents were killed and two seriously wounded in a fight near Chittagong, east of here, last night between the group which raided the Chittagong police arsenal Saturday and British troops. Fourteen arrests were made. No soldiers were injured.

The insurgents were posted in a strong position on a hill and were attacked by detachments in the Eastern Frontier Rifles and the Burma Valley Light Horse.

The main body of the raiders was still at large, but military operations continued.

SOLDIER LOST LIFE

Bombay, India, April 23.—In the fastnesses of the Punjab Mountains, a British soldier was killed to-day as the Nationalist campaign of Mahatma Gandhi's followers penetrated into India's far north. At Peshawar, almost on the hilly border of Afghanistan, the soldier died from injuries received during a disturbance caused by the arrest of a number of civil disobedience campaigners.

THREE CONSTABLES SHOT

At Calcutta, on Bengal Bay, 1500 miles to the southeast, three constables were shot as they attempted to conduct a search. A riot resulted and numerous Nationalist arrests followed. Unrest spread generally through the country, expressed in boycotts on foreign cloth, refusals to pay taxes and further salt law violations.

WORK IS STOPPED

A general hartal, or cessation of work, followed the killing of the Peshawar soldier. He had attempted to arrest a number of Swarajists, who were making salt in defiance of the strict government monopoly. A mob gathered, stones and sticks flew, and when the rioters were dispersed by soldiers, one of the men was found fatally injured.

CULPRITS WHO SHOT THREE CONSTABLES IN CALCUTTA ESCAPED TO THE HILLY COUNTRY INLAND.

THIRTY-ONE ARRESTED
Professor Vikram Mar. Swarajist vice-president of Howrah Municipality, was arrested with thirty others who were picketing a municipal shop. A mob attacked the police van carrying the arrested men, but was dispersed.

Mawar merchants gathered with Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya to discuss at Calcutta the boycott on foreign cloth. Villagers at Bana refused to pay land taxes in protest against arrest of Vallabhai Patel, adherent of Gandhi.

PATIL MAY RESIGN
Calcutta, India, April 24.—Nationalist circles to-day said V. J. Patel, speaker of the Indian Legislative Assembly, the widely known Swarajist leader, had decided to resign.

He was known here to have been at variance with the government for a long time, and many expected that action from him as his brother, Vallabhai Patel, was arrested and imprisoned at the beginning of Mahatma Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign.

STUDY OF TRANSNEPTUNIAN PLANET AIDED BY OTTAWA

Canadian Press

Cambridge, Mass., April 23.—Possibility of the existence of another hitherto unknown Transneptunian planet was announced to-day by Professor Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory, following receipt of a telegram from the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa. The possible proof of such a planet's existence had been laid away on photographic plates taken at the Canadian observatory six years ago.

"A telegram received from Dr. H. M. M. Stewart of the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa," said Professor Shapley, "reports that all object discovered by Entente and Miss Burland on plates taken in 1924 is suspected to be a Transneptunian planet."

POSITION STUDIED

This is apparently a Transneptunian object, or at least very far out in the planetary system, but since no magnitude or form of the object has been given by the observers, it is impossible to say whether this is another Transneptunian body like the planet recently discovered at the Lowell Observatory or whether it is the nucleus of some great comet at or near Athletia. The position in 1924 shows it is not the Lowell Observatory object.

Professor Shapley said photographic plates made at the Harvard Observatory were being examined for traces of the object reported by the Ottawa observers.

VIEWERS DIFFER

Planet X, referred to by Professor Shapley, was announced by him March 13 as having been discovered by the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz. His opinion was that the planet, the ninth of the solar system, was beyond

Machine Which Took Empire Throne Heir From Khartum Crashes at Cairo

Pilot and Aircraftman Lose Lives; Several Other Planes in Group

Cairo, Egypt, April 23.—The aeroplane in which the Prince of Wales traveled here from Khartum last week crashed this morning at the Heliopolis Aerodrome shortly after taking off on its return flight to Khartum.

The two occupants, Pilot Officer F. S. Earrow and Aircraftman C. Davies were killed.

The machine was one of a number of Air Force planes which the Prince had used on returning from his African hunting trip. Four other planes were employed to bring the royal party from Khartum to Cairo, a 1,000-mile trip which was completed last Thursday. Each was equipped to carry two persons besides the pilot.

ISLAND HOTEL CHAIN MOOTED

Reference to Ambitious Proposal Is Made By Publicity Writer

Plan Proving Successful in Eastern Canada Considered

As a prospect that is being given serious consideration, but has not reached the stage where a definite report can be made, the establishment of a chain of holiday hotels or inns throughout Vancouver Island is referred to in a quarterly report on conditions and developments in Victoria prepared by Frank Gioia for The Monetary Times.

Some of the hotels, Mr. Gioia says, would be situated on the sea front, others in the farming valley on good fishing rivers and still others up in the mountains.

When Fire In Columbus, Ohio, Penitentiary Was Being Fought

The picture above, showing a portion of the prison at Columbus, Ohio, was taken while members of the city fire department were fighting the flames. A fire engine can be seen, from it ran a number of hoses, laid through the main gate, which is shown. The fire, which killed 316 men, occurred Monday evening. The Times is able to present this picture to its readers so soon after the disaster because it came most of the way by telephoto.

LONG VACATION FOR COLLEGIANS STARTED TO-DAY

Students, With Examinations Completed, Leave Books For Five Months

Bursary Winners and Results of Tests Expected to Be Known May 6

Happy days are here again for over 200 students at Victoria College who, this afternoon, completed the examinations which have hung for the last two weeks like a black cloud over their bright year at college. Now, with their text books laid carefully aside, the freshmen and sophomores at the College are looking forward to their five months' vacation. Tonight the collegians will gather for a final rally.

Within the week, scores of other local students will return to the city from the University of British Columbia and other out-of-town colleges for their lengthy holidays.

For the next two weeks, the professors of the College will be busy marking the papers the students have written and will then turn the results over to the Senate of the University of British Columbia for ratification. The Senate will meet about May 6 to consider the list. Scholarship and bursary winners will be announced along with the successful candidates.

BOY KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN GARDEN

Burquitlam Lad of Five Victim of Accident; Detonating Cap Is Blamed For Tragedy

His Younger Sister and Another Boy Injured; Now Lie in Hospital

New Westminster, April 23.—Billy, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Oliver, Rochester Road, Burquitlam, was almost instantly killed at 9:30 a.m. to-day by a mysterious explosion in the back garden of his home.

The boy's sister, Julia, four, suffered injury to the right hand and cuts and bruises, and a playmate, Gordon Wicklund, six, is in a serious condition, having suffered injuries to both knees as well as lacerations and severe shock. Both were taken to the Royal Columbian Hospital.

CAP IS BLAMED

The explosion, which is thought to have been caused by a detonating cap, knocked all the children down and smashed a large rock in the garden.

Billy got up and walked a few feet and his mother took him by the hand, but he soon fell dead.

The father, an auto salesman, who was out of town, rushed to the hospital when he heard of the tragedy, and was so unnerved that he collapsed.

The explosion was so severe it caused injuries to him that are kept in the next door garden by Arthur J. Shaw.

ORDER IS KEPT AMONG MEN IN BURNED PRISON

Toll of Fire at Columbus, Ohio, Mounts to 318 With Death of Convict To-day

600 Negroes in Wooden Barracks, Left Unlocked, Create Menace

Columbus, Ohio, April 23.—The death toll in the Ohio penitentiary fire disaster was increased to 318 to-day when Edward Willis succumbed in the prison hospital. Death was caused by suffocation.

Willis had been serving from five to seven years from Cuyahoga County for larceny.

THREAT DISAPPEARS
Columbus, Ohio, April 23.—A spirit of unrest among the thousands of convicts early to-day in the Ohio State Penitentiary here, scene of the tragic fire Monday night when more than 300 prisoners were burned to death or suffocation, disappeared at dawn and the inmates were back to work.

The fact that 600 negro convicts, housed in wooden barracks in the yards, were not locked in, and that several thousand men in the idle house prisoners were restless and at times almost defiant, caused guards to fear a break for liberty between 4 a.m. and 6 a.m. to-day. The negro convicts were not locked in because prison officials feared fire in the wooden buildings. The men in the idle house were locked in behind steel cages, but were not in their cells.

CITY OPPOSES BEER LICENSE AT GOLDSTREAM

Application For Beer Permit For Goldstream Hotel Is Debated

F. M. Preston Sustained in Filing Objection to Permit Sought

Beer and water were combined in a sudden discussion before the City Council yesterday evening, on action taken by F. M. Preston in regard to the advertised application for a beer license for the proposed new Goldstream Hotel.

The point arose on a report by the city water commissioner that he had written to the Liquor Control Board entering an objection to the granting of the license requested by an applicant who contemplated the reconstruction of the Goldstream Hotel. He has taken this action in the belief that it was not in the public interest to have a beer license issued for premises so close to the watershed.

PREMIER OF ALBERTA IS NOW IN CITY

Hon. John E. Brownlee Arrived Here With Son To-day From Edmonton

PREMIER BROWNLEE OF ALBERTA

Hon. John E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, registered at the Empress this morning after disembarking from the Vancouver boat. With the Alberta leader is his son, Jack, a lad of fourteen years of age, who has been slightly under the weather and is in need of a recuperative climate.

"I have been in Vancouver for two days and came over to Victoria to round out a short holiday," said Premier Brownlee to-day. "I thought a little change would do my boy good. There was no political or business significance to his visit, the Premier said.

Shortly after his arrival to-day, Mr. Brownlee called upon Premier Toibie to pay his respects and accepted an invitation with his son to luncheon at the Empress. He said he hoped to spend the balance of the week in this city, and then return to Edmonton. If he can find it convenient to remain until Saturday he will be a guest at the wedding of the Premier's daughter, Miss Carol Toibie and John St. Clair Harvey of Bristol.

Abolition of Junior Matriculation Urged

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 23.—Characterizing junior matriculation examinations as a waste of time and money and part of a vicious system, which has a detrimental effect on the whole term's work of the student, Dr. G. G. Sedgewick of the University of British Columbia, speaking on "the problem of examinations" at the annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation at the Kitsilano High School here this morning, advocated their abolition, or modification, at least. He offered a number of suggestions by way of improving the system.

"I would suggest that two-thirds of the students taking matriculation, that is the two-thirds ranking highest, be passed without examination to the University 'without further fuss,' said Dr. Sedgewick. "I can see no danger in it at all. As for the remaining one-third, examinations could be taken if so desired, but these would be taken as a separate class, not as from any certain school."

CREDIT SYSTEM
The speaker also suggested a credit system whereby schools of a certain standard, and equipment could pass students on the showing during the term without examination. There would, he said, be certain safeguards required. He advocated further that schools be approved annually through rigid inspections. For schools not reaching the standard required, he recommended examinations, especially for students seeking scholarships.

"I am of the opinion examinations should be held at the end of the year and not at Easter time," concluded Dr. Sedgewick. "This would obviate the

CONFESSION OF MURDER DISBELIEVED

Los Angeles Police Find Gaps in Man's Story of W. D. Taylor Killing

Los Angeles, April 23.—Discrepancies in the voluntary "confession" of Russo Rinaldo, forty-one-year-old accountant and shell-shocked World War veteran, that he was the murderer eight years ago of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, led police detectives to-day to discredit his story.

Los Angeles, April 23.—Police here to-day held Russo Rinaldo, an accountant, booked on suspicion of the murder of a motion picture actress, Detective Joseph Taylor, who said he had been living in Tucson, Ariz., since immediately after the murder, confessed the Rinaldo's arrest early to-day was the result of several weeks' investigation by members of the police homicide squad of various angles of the Taylor murder mystery involving the suspect. He voluntarily confessed to Detective Joseph Taylor and James Bean of the homicide detail shortly after he had been taken into custody.

TELLS OF QUARREL

According to the story told the police, Rinaldo said he was a friend of a motion picture actress, who visited the Taylor bungalow apartment on the evening of February 1.

He said he followed in a taxicab the actress when she entered the Taylor apartment and remonstrated with Taylor for his actions during the quarrel. Taylor, he said, became angry and drew a revolver. In the scuffle that followed, Rinaldo said he gained possession of Taylor's gun and shot him.

STORY CHECKED
While Rinaldo's story coincides with minute details of the known facts of the case, police are inclined to doubt his confession until a careful check has been made.

NEW APARTMENT BLOCK TO RISE

Western Apartments Limited Take Out Permit For $45,000 Structure

New Block to Be Two and Half Stories, Containing Thirty-one Rooms

A two and a half story apartment block, to contain thirty-one rooms and thirteen suites, is to be built at 835 Vancouver Street, according to a permit taken out at the City Hall to-day by the Western Apartments Limited, per B. Work has already started at the site, where a large frame dwelling is to be razed to make way for the new building. The plans call for a frame stucco block of handsome exterior and fitted throughout with the latest modern improvements. The site lies at the crest of a ridge facing the Olympic Mountains.

The permit is the first issued to the newly-formed Western Apartments Limited, a company organized with local capital to carry on apartment house construction, brought to a high state of efficiency in this city by Mr. Moxam, in association with others.

TWO TEACHERS DROWNED AS PUPILS WATCH

Lynn Creek, Near Vancouver, Claims Lives of Young Men; Heroic Rescue Fails

Canadian Press
North Vancouver, April 23.—J. A. Hyndman, Vancouver, and F. E. Lothian, Vancouver, teachers in the Carleton School, Collingwood, perished in Lynn Creek to-day before the eyes of eighteen girl pupils they had taken for a mountain hike.

Mr. Lothian sacrificed his life in a gallant attempt to save his friend. The party had reached the second canyon and Mr. Lothian safely crossed the large log that serves as a bridge, when Mr. Hyndman lost his balance halfway across and fell into the boiling current.

OVER THE FALLS
Without hesitation Mr. Lothian plunged into the swollen creek, but failed to reach his friend before both were swept over the falls and perished. The double tragedy occurred at 11:49 o'clock.

Several of the girl students' screams when they realized what had occurred, but others ran quickly for help.

Chief Constable W. W. Hemmingsway and Deputy Chief C. J. Gurr recovered the body of Mr. Lothian before the dragging for Mr. Hyndman's body.

FARMERS AGREE TO GROW BEANS ON BIG SCALE

Gordon Head Will Supply Green Beans to Cold Storage Warehouse

H. G. Brown Tells Growers of Tremendous Home Market For Off-season Products

Addressing the Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Association at the Gordon Head Hotel yesterday evening, H. G. Brown, president of the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Company Limited, was successful in an appeal for volunteers to grow green beans for marketing over a lengthy term by means of refrigeration.

W. Renouf, T. Walker and A. W. Woods, appointed as a committee to organize the growers, were immediately successful in obtaining pledges of a substantial acreage for production of beans, and will seek the co-operation of the Provincial Department of Agriculture in obtaining uniform seed of high grade for distribution.

Mr. Brown told what farmers were doing in the United States with frozen fruits and vegetables and stated that the green grocery of the future would be a refrigerating store. Great quantities of fruits and vegetables were continually coming to Victoria and kept in cold storage. There was something radically wrong when such conditions could prevail. Mr. Brown exhibited corn on the cob just as it was placed in storage at the Ogden Point plant last September. There was no apparent change in its condition after seven months of freezing.

He told of what the growers of Kenting were doing to co-operate in the production of green peas, and hoped the Gordon Head district would decide to provide green beans. He stressed the value of co-operative growing and marketing under a common trade mark.

WANTED—FAT GIRLS

To try this safe, easy reducing method

Fat girls, here's good news for you. A safe, easy way of reducing weight, without dangerous drugs, without extreme diet or exercise. Read how this woman lost 23 lbs. and gained in health and vigour.

"I have taken Kruschen Salts every day for nearly a year, and I have not felt so well for many years. My weight has dropped from 163 lbs. to 140 lbs. All my acquaintances say how much younger and better I look. I feel bright and well, whereas before I was always tired and nervous." Mrs. B. Kruschen fights fat by removing its cause, which is the accumulation of waste matter thrown off in the process of digestion. These acids and poisonous masses should be eliminated by the body's "scavengers"—the kidneys, liver and bowels. When these get lazy, these deposits remain in the body and form unhealthy fat.

Kruschen Salts, by toning up the eliminating organs, gradually remove the fatty deposits. As the fat melts away, joyous health and energy return. (Adv.)

TESTING NEW METHODS IN SCHOOL FIELD

Sir John Adams, Addressing B.C. Principals, Deals With Canada's Progress

Vancouver, April 23.—That every school principal is in reality an engineer, seeking to translate the practical from the theoretical or academic into the life of the student, and having applied these channels of knowledge in his particular branch of study, to pass on to his charges the results of his investigation, was the gist of a speech by Sir John Adams, eminent British educationist, at the principals' dinner in connection with the B.C. Teachers' Federation annual convention at Hotel Georgia here yesterday evening.

The speaker took for his subject "The Educational Engineer," and, although covering a wide scope, stressed these thoughts throughout.

The principal of the Sir Alexander Mackenzie School, T. Woodcock, was in the chair, and the dinner was well attended.

After giving a comprehensive definition of the term engineer, Sir John explained that in all walks of life the academic led to the practical. In the study of medicine, for instance, physiology was a logical sequence. In the art of teaching, psychology was the field for the practical. Principals, he said, whether consciously or subconsciously, were engineers.

He traced the development of the school system in England, dealing with the school board, school board clerks, inspectors and teachers or various grades and departments. The inspectors, he said, were strong scholars and their observations were invaluable.

BLIND MUSICIANS TO PLAY FRIDAY

Victoria music-lovers will be given an opportunity to hear the highly praised orchestra of blind musicians from the Vancouver headquarters of the Western Division of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in the Empress Hotel on Friday evening.

The orchestra, composed of thirteen pieces, has won high acclaim in Vancouver and should doubtless meet with approval here. Of the thirteen players, only two have their sight. The remainder include partially and totally blind men and women.

The orchestra was organized in the autumn of 1928 by the musically inclined sightless persons in the province. They started an independent drive to secure funds for instruments and tuition and, in a short time had sufficient money to carry on their work.

Of the entire body, only two had played before they lost their sight.

In addition to being heard on the concert stage in Vancouver, the musicians are known to a great number of people through their radio performances.

Ontario Indians Uphold Ancient Custom of Tribe

Muncie, Ont., April 23.—The Oneida Indians of the Thames on the Delaware Township reservation, twenty miles southwest of London, yesterday voted against a proposal to adopt the electoral system of the white men. In so doing, the Oneidas retain their unique position as the only Indian tribe in the whole of Canada which still maintains the right of its forefathers in appointing its chiefs by the hereditary system.

Handed down from one generation to another for five centuries or more, the ancient custom of having the clanswomen or princesses appoint their chiefs, received renewed approbation by a three to one vote of a representative number of the tribe at the Long House yesterday. Federal government officials presided over the pow-wow, attended by nearly 150 members of the tribe.

DR. JOHN C. JONES DIES

Columbia, Mo., April 23.—Dr. John Carlton Jones, president emeritus of the University of Missouri, died yesterday at Daytona Beach, Fla., relatives here were advised.

A quarter of a million deaths of children below the age of fifteen in a single year is the gruesome toll for the United States.

SETTLEMENT SCHEME FOR B.C. DISCUSSED

Plan For U.S. and Canadian Scandinavians to Take Up Lands Debated

Canadian Press
Duluth, Minn., April 23.—The death last February of a Duluth, Minnesota, newspaper publisher, who was about to close negotiations with the British Columbia Government whereby 1,000,000 acres of government-owned land would be placed at his disposal for colonization by Scandinavian residents of the United States and Canada has temporarily halted the proposal, it is reported here.

There remains, however, the possibility that the project will be carried out, although the British Columbia Cabinet's attitude is uncertain since the death of J. J. Fuhr, publisher of the Norwegian and Danish newspapers.

Fuhr died suddenly at Winnipeg, February 20, while on his way to Victoria to close the transaction.

Details of the negotiations have not been made public and it is said to have been the intention of parties involved that no announcement would be made until the deal had been fully consummated.

At present the entire proposal is held in abeyance pending fresh negotiations between financial interests in Minneapolis and St. Paul and the Fuhr estate.

The British Columbia Cabinet was said to have approved the transaction last summer. The bankruptcy of the Roshay Company of Minneapolis also had an influence in halting the proceedings temporarily. One of the subsidiaries of the Roshay Company was involved in the deal.

Fuhr's wide acquaintance with Scandinavian people of the United States and Canada was the principal reason for his being selected to take charge of the proposed colonization. It has been pointed out.

The colonization, it is explained, was to be in effect ten years, with various stipulations as to cost of land to be paid to the government. Fuhr also was to finance industrial plants so as to insure employment during "slack periods."

CANADA-CHINA TRADE INCREASE IS PREDICTED

Tokio—(Canadian Press by Mail)—On the eve of his departure from Shanghai for Yokohama after his tour of China, Hon. Herbert Marler, Canadian Minister to Japan, was guest of honor at a luncheon tendered him by the Pan-Pacific Association. Col. L. M. Cosgrove, Canadian trade commissioner at Shanghai, presided.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. Marler said that while he was not visiting China in an official capacity, he was distinctly interested in the trade relations between that country and Canada. He emphasized his belief that China was a great potential market, and that by courage, patience and organization, Canada and the other members of the British Empire must prepare to supply its future needs, to say nothing of retaining the present trade that had been built up.

As Prison Fire Raged

Above is a picture of a cell in the prison at Columbus, Ohio, with prisoners inside, taken during the fire which killed 318 men. It was in cells such as this, in four blocks, that the prisoners died Monday night. This picture came most of the way to The Times by telephoto.

WHEAT GAINS TWO CENTS TO-DAY ON WINNIPEG MART

Improved Demand From Overseas Bolsters Prices; Market Improved

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Man., April 23.—Improved demand for Canadian wheat overseas occasioned rises of close to two cents per bushel in all three futures on the Winnipeg grain market to-day. Firmness at Liverpool and less pressure of offerings helped the upward tendency, though trading was slow.

May gained 1½ cents to $109, while July and October were ahead 1½ cents at $114½ and $114½ to 5¢.

Good business in Manitoba, hard winter and durum wheats after a long term in which little grain had been disposed of improved the condition of the market and brought a more optimistic feeling into trading. Cash wheat held steady, with little business, while coarse grains, in small trade, were firm in sympathy with wheat.

West Burnaby, B.C., April 23.—Discharged from hospital on Tuesday after treatment for nervous trouble, Arthur Stokes, forty-eight, was found by his wife about 10.45 a.m., dead in a chicken house at the rear of his home on Marlborough Avenue. His throat was cut.

He was a veteran of the South African War and the Great War, and had suffered with nerve trouble for some time. He leaves a widow and two children.

LONDON PAPERS DESCRIBE GAINS OF NAVAL PACT

No British-U.S. Shipbuilding Rivalry Will Be Seen Under Agreement

London, April 23.—Comparison with the Geneva conference of 1927, and removal of Anglo-American shipbuilding rivalry are the points most stressed in to-day's editorial comment on conclusion of the Naval Limitation Conference.

The London Daily Telegraph, after commenting on the ill effects of the Geneva failure, said: "With the disappearance of competition in naval armaments between Great Britain and the United States a friendship of incalculable importance to the world's peace has been set upon a new and durable basis."

The London Times said: "It seems more than any other single factor the success of the conference has been due to the improvement in Anglo-American relations."

The London Daily Herald, Labor organ, said: "It seems fantastic and yet it is a cold fact that only twelve months ago possibilities of an Anglo-American war were being discussed seriously."

Conviction On Forged Stock Count Recorded

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 23.—Charged with dealing in forged stock certificates of the McDougall-Segur (New) Oil Company, A. C. Clark was remained in police court to-day till April 30 for sentence.

"I have no hesitation in finding the accused guilty," said Magistrate H. G. Shaw in reply to defence counsel's argument that Clark's story of receiving the certificates in a business transaction was worthy of belief.

It was charged that Clark, who is also known as Middleton, transferred a certificate for 2,000 shares to Christopher Boyd, Nicomen Island, in return for $300 in cash and a number of mining stock certificates and that other allegedly forged certificates were found in his possession.

Germs destroy both teeth and tissues

Film must be removed

Employ the scientific method dentists urge

WHAT causes decay? Germs. Germs, with tartar, are also held to be a chief cause of pyorrhea. Germs on the teeth—and there are millions—are difficult to reach. A dingy, glue-like film holds them in contact with the tooth's enamel. This film coat gets into crevices and stays. It clings so stubbornly that only a special film-removing tooth paste can remove it satisfactorily. That tooth paste is the scientific formula called Pepsodent. Utterly different from every other, as you notice instantly when it touches your teeth. No crude abrasive, but a creamy paste so gentle that it is recommended for children's teeth and for tender gums. Safeguard your teeth and give them the dazzling whiteness Pepsodent alone can bring. Write for free 10-day tube to The Pepsodent Co., 191 George St., Toronto 2, Ont.

Winter and family of Vancouver, spent the Easter holidays at their summer home here. Miss Gwendolyn Meredith-Jones has been staying at Shawigan Lake for the last few days.

SEES PRAIRIES AS MARKET FOR FROZEN BERRIES

W. W. Duncan Tells Gordon Head Fruit Growers Prospect Is Encouraging

A great and profitable market for frozen strawberries can be developed in the prairie provinces, W. W. Duncan, market commissioner, yesterday evening assured the Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Association at a meeting held at the Gordon Head School, with W. F. Somers in the chair.

The commissioner considered that when distribution of the frozen berries had been arranged on a scientific basis, and was supported by an adequate supply, strawberries would prove to be among the most reliable profit-makers available to the farmers of Greater Victoria. Mr. Duncan expressed hearty support for the packing of crates of fruit destined for prairie markets, that system having become effective in most of the larger producing centres. Replying to questions, Mr. Duncan explained that the field pickers did not pack the berries, that being performed under inspection by experts in the central shed, the result being a more uniform pack.

N. H. Lamont, manager of the Growers' Wine Company, considered the outlook for loganberries to be excellent this year. He told of the expansion of the Lake Hill winery to a storage capacity of 1,000,000 gallons, and touched upon the development of a new plant at New Westminster, where 400,000 gallons of wine will be matured.

Mr. Lamont invited the members of the Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Association to inspect the Lake Hill winery.

SPOKEN PLAY IS DOOMED UNLESS SUPPORT GIVEN

Says Miss Lillian Christine in Eloquent Address to Club-women

Appeals For Children to Know Theatre as Well as "Talkies"

"I feel that it is through the children of the present day that the theatre is to be saved from extinction, and this must be effected by educating their theatre sense. In Victoria there must be hundreds of boys and girls who have never seen a real play. I am not asking you to keep them away from the cinema. I go to the cinema myself. But I do ask you to encourage them to go to the theatre as well so that they can judge for themselves."

This plea on behalf of the "legitimate" stage was made by Miss Lillian Christine, leading lady of the Gordon McLeod Players, in the course of her intensely interesting address on "The Drama" before a very large gathering of the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

Miss Christine appealed on behalf of the spoken play which, she declared, deserved support, even in the face of the competition of the "talkies" with their elaborate settings, because of the human touch, the sense of personality, communicated over the footlights. But, unless the spoken play returned to some of its erstwhile popularity from the box-office point of view, it must inevitably disappear.

Reviewing the history of the drama, the speaker recalled that it had its origin in religion, primitive man employing music and dance in the worship of his gods. The Greek custom of worshipping Bacchus by the presentation of the drama, and the medieval mystery performed in the churches in medieval plays, were the forerunners of the secular theatre, which had its origin in Europe in the sixteenth century. Reference was made to the Elizabethan era and the influence of Shakespeare, the greatest of all dramatists, upon the theatre.

Miss Christine noted the modern tendency to the natural on the stage, as compared with the days of the Greek drama, when masks were used to designate the mood, age, character and sex of the actor, and extraneous effects were used to accentuate the various roles.

The speaker introduced her interesting address with a few words of appreciation of the many kindnesses she had experienced from the women of Canada since her arrival in the Dominion, particularly in Victoria.

The musical part of the programme was in the capable hands of Miss Margus Marguerite Vooght, brilliant young pupil of Mme. Gertrude Hundy, who contributed two piano solos, Schubert's "Impromptu in B Flat" and "Old Vienna" (Godefray), and Mr. James McGrath, of the Gordon McLeod Players Company, and the possessor of a pleasing tenor, who sang three numbers, "The Song of the Lark" (Godefray), "Redoubt Love Song" (Ciro Pinsuti), and an encore, "Cadenza" (I Heard a Thrush at Eve).

Mrs. F. B. Scurrah, who presided, presented Miss Christine with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, and Mrs. E. Corby expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker.

On the motion of Mrs. J. C. F. Hyndman, was chosen to represent the club at the annual meeting of the Association of Canadian Clubs to be held at London, Ontario, on June 5 and 6.

KUMTUKS PLAN DAFFODIL TEA

Diversions Planned For Saturday's Affair at Club Quarters

Plans for the daffodil tea to be held in the headquarters, 1118 Douglas Street, on Saturday afternoon, were completed by the Kumtuku Club at the monthly business meeting held last evening, with the president, Miss Kate McFarlane, in the chair.

Saturday's affair will open at 8 o'clock and tea will be served until 9 o'clock under the direction of Miss Marriott. A home-made candy stall will be in charge of Miss Jessie Fraser; Mrs. Elizabeth Willis, home cooking; Mrs. Macrae, superlatives. Amusing diversions will be provided in the shape of tea-cup racing and fortune-telling.

In the evening a bridge game will be arranged, and reservations for tables should be made with Miss Beckwith. Other business discussed, including the arrangements for the joint meeting of the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club and the Kumtuku at Nanaimo on May 24 and 25, and matters pertaining to the first convention of Canadian business and professional clubwomen at Winnipeg in July, to which the club will send a delegate.

MORE MATERNITY CLINICS NEEDED, SAYS DOCTOR

Dr. Russell Robertson Tells Nurses of High Maternal Mortality

Public Health Nursing Discussed By Several Speakers Yesterday

"We are losing over 1,550 mothers every year in Canada, practically two-thirds of which number could be saved by proper prenatal care and treatment," Dr. Russell Robertson told the British Columbia Graduate Nurses' Association at their closing session in the Nurses' Home at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday evening.

CARE DURING PREGNANCY. Speaking on "Ante Partum Care During Pregnancy," Dr. Robertson reviewed the heavy maternal mortality in the Dominion to emphasize the need of proper care of the expectant mother. The high mortality suggested that the life of the mother was held in too light esteem in this country, observed Dr. Robertson, and he expressed his more general establishment of maternity clinics, such as exist in Toronto and other eastern cities, where the excellent pre-natal and post-natal care has resulted in an appreciable lowering of the maternal and infant mortality rate.

HEALTH UNITS. Dr. A. R. Chisholm spoke on "Recent Measures of Prevention." Representing the Provincial Department of Health, in the absence of Dr. H. E. Young, he referred to the health units to be formed throughout British Columbia along the lines of that already in operation in Saanich and that shortly to be opened in North Vancouver. He particularly touched on the question of disease and the work that could be done in educating the public to this effect.

Miss Mary Campbell of Vancouver, president, and representing the public health nursing section, Miss O. Colworth of Vancouver, representing the private duty section, and Miss Curry, educational section, were appointed delegates to the biennial convention of the Canadian National Association, to be held at Regina.

ASK FOR THOROUGH SURVEY. These delegates will vote on various questions with regard to the Canadian Nurses' Association, with special regard to the survey of nursing now in progress in British Columbia, and of which Dr. Weir is to speak to-night at the Jubilee Hospital Nurses' Home. The meeting passed a resolution to the effect that the association was of the opinion that to be of any value, the survey should be thorough, and that the British Columbia delegates to the biennial conference be instructed to vote in favor of further money being applied or raised for that purpose if, after hearing the report, they felt this advisable.

Songs by Miss Rosier and Thomas Keiway, with Miss Taylor at the piano, furnished a pleasing interlude in the evening's business.

Miss Breeze of Vancouver, on behalf of the visiting delegates, thanked the Victoria association for their hospitality; also the alumni and staff of St. Joseph's and Jubilee Hospitals for their hospitality, and the musicians who had entertained them at their several sessions.

NURSING SCHOOLS' DEMANDS. At the afternoon session Miss Grace Fairley, lady superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, spoke of the increasing new demands made by nursing schools. These demands should, she thought, be met, and to do so there must be a readjustment in the curriculum of the training school. Dietetics would have to be given much more recognition in the course of studies. Speaking of materia medica, Miss Fairley said that there was a definite decline in the use of drugs, whose chief function was for sedation, purgative, or stimulant purposes. Most drugs to-day were given in tablet form, and the great thing was for the student to realize the difference in the composition of the tablets and their effect on the patient.

This speaker also called attention to the benefit which would accrue from a public health nurse understanding the social conditions surrounding the family unit. She should also be taught the signs of disease. In conclusion, she left the reminder that the nurse of the future should be considered definitely as a period of educational development for the nurse.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING. Miss Margaret Kerr, instructor of public health nursing at the University of British Columbia, reviewed some of the programmes of public health nursing instituted in eastern centres in the United States, particularly in Detroit, where 500 public health nurses were employed. Special tribute was paid to Toronto as having one of the best public health services on the continent, its standard being so renowned all over North America that traveling scholarship men usually sent at least a month studying the methods used in this Canadian city.

EDUCATIONAL WORK. Miss Ethel Thornley, head nurse of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses, gave a typical picture of nurses who had been graduated less than a year, saying that seven per cent held public health positions, twenty-four per cent institutional positions, and sixty-nine per cent dropped into the ranks of the free lance of private duty. Any nurse doing district work or what was now called public health work, must put teaching first. Every visit must be of an educational nature, which would leave the patient and the family wiser and better than when she came into contact with them.

WOMAN TELLS OF EXPERIENCE IN BANDITS' HANDS

Tacoma Missionary Abducted By Chinese Communists; Terrible Strain

Hankow, April 23.—Miss Nina E. Gemmell, a missionary formerly of Girard, Kansas, and Tacoma, Wash.,

who recently was kidnapped by bandits at Yanchow, Kiangsi province, and later released, asserted here yesterday that foreign missionaries in the interior of China were being made the special victims of communistic raids, whose depredations have wrought chaos in many districts.

Miss Gemmell had recovered sufficiently from her ordeal to tell for the first time her experience in being abducted, along with the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Forteous, British missionaries, during the raiding of Yanchow.

The American missionary said she and her British friends fell into the hands of brigands parading under communistic banners and that all three were carried to a bandit stronghold in the mountains.

During her captivity, Miss Gemmell said, her captors repeatedly stated they considered foreign missionaries responsible for China's ills and the poverty of the people.

"The communists entered the mission," she said, "on the afternoon of March 23. Armed men bound the British missionaries and me, parading us through the village streets and eventually taking us before the communist leader, who charged us with being guilty of five heinous crimes."

"We were imprisoned in a schoolhouse for three days and then marched by night twenty miles into the mountains, hiding during the day time."

"Due to the utter lack of accommodation and to inadequate food and sleep and the constant wrangling of the bandit guard the physical strain was terrific, and Mrs. Forteous and I fainted repeatedly."

"My release was effected through

Christians in the vicinity offering $1,200 Mexican, thinking all would be released. The communists, however, refused to release all or even agreed to free one. Mr. and Mrs. Forteous insisted I go.

"I proceeded with six Chinese prisoners whom the bandits had considered valueless after seven days in camp."

"During our captivity the bandits reiterated the world was against them, but that the eventual outcome would be a world revolution with communism victorious."

WOMEN PLAY BIG PART IN BRITISH POLITICS TO-DAY

Labor Party Conference Emphasizes Growing Importance of Feminine Members

By GEORGE HAMILTON, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 23.—The conference of the Independent Labor Party at Birmingham, which has served to reveal and measure the extent of the left-wing revolt against the Labor Government, has also served to emphasize the growing importance of the part played by modern women in British politics. It was a woman delegate from London who started the debate of Sunday which brought many criticisms of the government's so-called tempering policy. It was a married woman who advanced some of the most outstanding arguments in favor of children's allowances, and yesterday two women were leaders in attacking the Snowdon budget as inadequate from the Socialist angle.

LEADING WOMEN

Two women to-day are high in the councils of the regular Labor Party, the Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor, whose unemployment insurance measure has formed one of the chief points of dissatisfaction among the Socialists, and Mrs. S. M. Hamilton, M.P., deputy chairman of the Labor Party, has served as a member of the London County Council. Miss Eleanor Rathbone, an independent member, was a member for the Liverpool City Council as early as 1909, and she, as well as Mrs. Hamilton, has a large number of publications to her credit.

FIRST WOMAN M.P.

It was a Conservative, however, Lady Astor, the former Nancy Langhorne of Virginia, who, first of all women, entered the British Parliament and endeavored to bring about the passage of prohibition and sociological reforms. The Duchess of Atholl, M.P., was parliamentary secretary to the Board of Education from 1924 to 1929. Another Conservative woman member is the Countess of Iwagh.

A list of women members of the House would not, however, be complete without mention of Margaret Lloyd George, who made her maiden speech a few weeks ago while her noted father sat in his seat and shook his famous grey locks with obvious pride.

Outside of Parliament women are also coming to wield much greater power. An outstanding example of the woman in finance and industry is furnished by Lady Houston, widow of Sir Robert, the shipping magnate, who left his wife an estate of $50,000,000. Lady Houston is deeply interested in the welfare of women and is numbered among the first five Dame Commanders to be created. Sybil, Viscountess Rhonda, widow of the coal baron and food controller of war days, is an industrialist whose opinions carry considerable weight, and is also possessor of one of the largest fortunes in the country.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

WELL-FED CHILD OFTEN SHOWS NO INTEREST IN FOOD

There are very few children who arrive at the table with a ravenous appetite, prepared to eat anything and everything put before them. That is the ideal situation most mothers hold out because we feed children so well they all too infrequently have the appetite which accompanies this picture. Probably the only places where one would find children who have no food whims and to whom eating is joy and pleasure thrice daily in institutions or in homes where food is so scarce that there is always just a little less than any child wants to eat. Then food becomes precious and feeding a thrilling pleasure. Here is the opposite extreme:

Mrs. R. E. D. says, "I don't know what I would do if I didn't have your column to read, each article is so interesting and helpful. I have a perfectly healthy, normal child, two years of age, spoiled a good deal. But meal times are a perfect nightmare. I have such a time getting food into her. She seems to want it, but wants to play also. She is two pounds overweight."

"Shall I take her down from the table, or keep on forcing food?"

"She has regular habits, does not eat between meals and goes to bed early, sleeping all night. Now can I encourage her to drink buttermilk? Should I leave her alone in the dark when she is crying or wait until she is asleep?"

It pleases me enormously to have you enjoy the column so. The really obvious thing about this situation is what you are refusing to face. The child has gotten so used to having each spoonful wheedled into her that she angles for just this attention. She is enjoying in her own mind the reputation you have given her of having to be "forced" to eat every mouthful.

Change the whole feeding situation. Substitute a few chairs for a dangle for the high-chair in which so many older children grow restive and uncomfortable. Give her less food on her plate than she is now eating. Pay no attention to her and if she wants more give her such a little extra that she will get down feeling as if she could have eaten more.

If she learns the habit of finishing what she has, and feels slightly dissatisfied with the amount she has eaten, her appetite will increase.

SHOW NO CONCERN OVER APPETITE

When she begins to play with her food, take it away. Do not warn her of this, just let it happen naturally. Your manner, more than your words, say to her: "Evidently you don't want any more."

Put small, attractive glasses of buttermilk on her table and, slightly out of reach. Having to reach for a thing enhances its value. Even children discover it, for they always reach for what is away from them instead of what is close at hand. If you would like the least bit of "fear," I shall be glad to send it to you for the usual self-addressed and stamped envelope. Going to sleep in the dark should be a habit from infancy. It isn't clear from your letter why she cries.

RED CROSS NURSE ALREADY BUSY AT NEW B.C. OUTPOST

Miss Roberts Writes to Tell of Experiences North of Peace River

Striking evidence of the long-felt need of a nursing service in the more remote districts of British Columbia, and of the hardships endured by settlers is given in a letter received at Provincial Red Cross headquarters a few days ago from Miss A. M. Roberts, the nurse who was sent to establish a Red Cross nursing outpost at Grand Haven, north of the Peace River block.

The letter says in part: "The journey as far as Hythe was uneventful. When the train arrived, I assisted four cars there was only one road between Pouce Coupe and Hythe being very bad and cars breaking down all round. I left Hythe at 2:30 p.m. for Pouce Coupe. We had two break-downs and arrived at 6:30."

FOURTEEN MILES IN THREE HOURS

"While at Pouce Coupe, I visited the Red Cross Hospital there. And at 10 a.m. left for Kolla to get a car for Pouce Coupe. Provincial Constable Devlin was also going in, and it took three hours to make fourteen miles. At 1:30 we started knowing that the roads were in very bad shape. Had the driver not been skilful and knew his job, we would never have arrived. We had about a dozen stops, a broken wheel, puncture and sticking in the mud. It took us five hours to get to Peace River."

"When we arrived the ferry was not working, so crossed in paddle boat. Large blocks of ice on all sides and some sheet ice to break through. I stayed with Miss Burley at Fort St. John and went on next morning to Grand Haven. Mr. MacLean, president of the Red Cross Society, met me and am staying with them until Nursing Station is furnished."

SERVICES IN DEMAND

"My services were in demand when I arrived at the river. A boy had been shot in both legs and was on his way to the hospital, the bullet being still in his leg. When I arrived on the other side of the river, a man was there with badly frost-bitten feet, and had come each day to have them dressed since."

"The first night at Grand Haven I went by team with Mr. MacLean to see a baby that was sick at Charley Lake, four and a half miles from here. Each day I have had someone come for treatment of some kind."

SETTLERS CO-OPERATE

"I like the house very much and when it is all straight it will be most comfortable. I have been able to get

A second letter, from N. V. MacLean, president of the Red Cross Society at Grand Haven, says: "Will you kindly convey our thanks to those whom we are indebted for our good luck in getting Miss Roberts."

Possibly, said Miss Thornley, the hospital would some day be a health centre, and there would be closer contact with health and social agencies. At the present time the only chance which the nurse had for studying persons was when they were sick. They lacked opportunities of becoming familiar with the mass of the population in an average state of health.

At the close of the afternoon session the visiting nurses were the guests of the Jubilee Hospital Alumnae Association at tea.

Church Social—The ladies of the First Universal Spiritual Church, 724 Port Street, will hold a social afternoon on Thursday. Tea will be served from 2:30 till 3:30 o'clock. Circle from 3:30 till 4:30 o'clock. A public circle will be held in the evening at 7 o'clock.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Kingston Street And Victoria Club To Meet In Opener

REDDY WOOD, brilliant young Vancouver golfer, has brought the Bostock Cup, emblematic of the British Columbia Amateur Golf Championship, back to British Columbia after its two-year absence from the United States. It was won last year by C. D. "Chuck" Hunter of Tacoma, and in 1928 by Hane McHugh of San Francisco. On Monday Wood gained the championship by his smashing 10 and 8 victory over Ken Black, seven-year-old Vancouver youngster, in the final.

The feature of the finals was that neither of the finalists has yet reached the age which gives him the privilege to cast a vote. Wood is only twenty. This just goes to prove that Canada's most western province is developing some mighty fine young golfers who in a few years will no doubt go out and blaze their names in major tournaments. As a matter of fact Wood established his claim as one of Canada's leading amateurs last summer when he reached the semi-finals of the Canada amateur championship at Jasper Park, where he came close as a gnat's hair to reaching the finals. As it was Eddie Held, who defeated Wood, won the championship.

Wood's victory was not surprising in view of his greater tournament experience. Black, still a schoolboy, was competing in his first major tournament, and although he might not have been affected in the earlier matches, the large crowd that followed the finals no doubt upset him to some extent.

Wood's victory will show the many star players from Washington, including "Chuck" Hunter, Ben Stein, Bobby Plimley, Jim Hagen and K. Rosen, that when they come to tournaments in British Columbia in future they will be up against the stiffest kind of competition. The B.C. players came to the finals with the idea of cleaning up on the silverware, but this year they went back empty handed.

When Miss Joyce Wethered withdrew from golf competition, England's chances to defeat the team of U.S. women that is soon to appear there, dropped a great deal—for Miss Wethered has been the greatest woman golfer in the world. But the British are not altogether without stars. Miss Enid Wilson, for instance, playing in a stiff windstorm, recently shot 74 in the Rochester Open. In the last nine holes in thirty-three strokes, including six on the sixteenth and eighteenth holes. Which is golf in any language.

Schmeiling's "exhibition tour" through Germany before leaving for the U.S. proved a good deal of disgruntled comment from the customers. It seemed they disliked having Schmeiling fight setups. That just goes to show that many need education. Schmeiling should have known that the only country in the world that will stand for a professional boxer of fighters who are knocking over baltines is the United States. But the Germans are not yet brought up to the point where they will get hooked on a fight.

The days of versatile athletes are not over. Harlow Rother, one of the leading athletes in the United States, who recently defeated Herman Brix in a dual meet with a put of over fifty-one feet, compiled the following record in the inter-class meet at Stanford: Shot putt, 31 feet 10 inches. Discus throw, 143 feet 7 inches. High jump, 5 feet 10 1/2 inches. Javelin throw, 178 feet 4 inches. And add to that the fact that he is captain of the football team and captain of the basketball team.

Also, Tuffy Griffiths was knocked out by Jack Gagnon. Which shows that it takes real courage to be a real fighter—because a stiff poke may be deflected on the head of a scrapper who is willing to take chances. Better luck next time, Tuffy. At least you weren't backing away from your man or riding a bicycle.

It is interesting to note that ping-pong, returning to popularity, has many famous fans. And most of them claim that the game is a whole of a good one—for developing co-ordination of the eye and body. For instance, the Argentine poloists, who cleaned up the best teams the Pacific Coast could furnish, including visiting players of international rank. The Argentinians play ping pong a great deal and hit the ball so fast that it is almost invisible. And Bobby Jones Jr. can plunk the ball down on any part of the opponent's court as large as a dime, with considerable regularity. In Europe ping pong is regarded more seriously than it is here, and matches are held in arenas before large crowds.

The Hungarians, for some reason, excel at this game. Probably the thing that has held ping pong back on this continent is its name. It sounds girly and ninety-ish. If it had a name like "bang-swat" everyone would try it.

At the start of the Augusta South-eastern Open Golf Tournament, which he won with thirteen less strokes than his nearest competitor, Bobby Jones had a crick in the neck. His first practice round was 78. But when the tournament began in earnest, he shot 23 just the same. Which gives you no impression that if he had a crick in the neck he would recover the next day and attack the course record.

BIG REGATTA TO BE HELD JULY 23-24

J.B.A.A. Vetoes Move to Have N.P.A.A.O. Meet at Brentwood Earlier

Consider Proposal Unfair to Clubs Now Forming Crews; May 24 Plans Started

Any possibility of a change in date for the North Pacific Association of Amateur Rowers' regatta at Brentwood this summer was eliminated yesterday evening, when the boating committee of the J.B.A.A. decided against the move at a special meeting in the clubhouse.

In view of the fact that any change in the constitution requires the unanimous consent of all clubs in the association, Victoria's move constituted a veto. The move was taken on the ground that the change in date would prove unfair to local and outside rowing clubs who would not be able to get into their best shape by the first week in July, the date asked by Brentwood.

Moreover, the local men felt that the ratification of the request would establish a precedent that would lead to the club, holding the regatta, arranging any convenient date for the event instead of giving every unit in the association an equal chance for training.

The local rowing committee pointed out that the college would be in far better shape than any other club competing in the meet. It was noted that the Brentwood crews had been working for some time over the school course and were in better condition than the J.B.A.A. crew which were still in the making.

MAY 24 REGATTA
Chris Smurthwaite, secretary of the J.B.A.A. boating committee, announced this morning that plenty of material was available and that several good crews would be installed in the different boats before the season's opening regatta on May 24. The boys were delaying preparations for this meet, until they should hear from the Chamber of Commerce, which was offering the event. It was proposed by the clubs to stage the regatta along with the Victoria Hydroplane Club. The sea-fleets and the shells would offer an exceptionally interesting programme, the committee thought.

In the rowing event, it was planned to have races with Brentwood and Vancouver crews if sufficient funds were available.

First of United States Athletic Stars Set Sail For Europe

Helen Wills-Moody And Women Golfers Will Seek Honors

British, American and French Tennis Champion Plans Extensive Programme in England and France; Will Play at Wimbledon in Wightman Cup Matches; Glenna Collett Heads Golfing Party to Oppose British Women in International Match; Bobby Jones and His Walker Cup Team Will Leave Next Wednesday.

By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, April 23.—The first U.S. athletic Argosy of the season was on the high seas headed for Europe to-day with hopes of bringing back a few more titles in golf and tennis.

Sole representative of tennis on the Berengaria which sailed yesterday evening was Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody, British, American and French singles champion. On board also were sixteen of the country's leading women golfers, headed by Glenna Collett, National champion. Mrs. Moody plans an extensive summer of tennis in England and France. She will defend her French title at Paris starting May 19 and then lead the United States Wightman Cup forces against the British at Wimbledon June 14 before beginning defense of her British title in the same stadium beginning June 23.

Miss Collett and her party of golfers have three main objectives. The first is the team match against a picked British squad at Sunningdale, May 1. Second, the British women's championship at Farnham, May 12, and third, the team match against France at Paris, May 27.

Although the two team matches will be of a more or less informal nature, steps were taken here to make official international women's golf competition an annual affair. Mrs. Stewart Hanley, manager of the invading American team, announced that Miss Margaret Curtis of Boston, former national champion, has presented a cup to be competed for by English, French, Canadian and American teams.

HOPE FOR ANNUAL AFFAIR

"Arrangements are now in the hands of the chairman of the sub-committee of the women's committee of the United States Golf Association," Mrs. Hanley said. "Next year we hope the Curtis Cup matches will become a realization and an American team similar to the Walker Cup team will be sent by the U.S.G.A. to represent us in England."

With the departure of the golfing army, experts were inclined to look with favor upon the American chances of winning the British women's title, one crown that always has eluded players from this country. Miss Collett lost in the final round last year, 3 and 1, to Joyce Wethered, great British player. With Miss Wethered's announced retirement from competitive golf, the United States champion probably will be favored to win the title this year.

The second general exodus of American golfing talent will occur next Wednesday when Bobby Jones and his Walker Cup team leaves for England. In addition to the team matches against England, Jones and his mates will compete in the British amateur and open championships and will be reinforced in the latter class by many of the greatest United States professionals. Jones will aim particularly for the amateur title, however, for it is the only leading golfing classic he never has won.

BASEBALL'S GREATEST "ACTION SHOT"

This picture is called the greatest baseball action picture ever made. It shows Ty Cobb sliding into third base, with Jimmy Austin on the bag. Above is Charles Conlon, proofreader on The New York Telegram, who took the picture.

New York, April 23.—It was the instinct of a photographer that caught the greatest baseball action picture ever taken.

The picture, widely printed since 1909, shows Ty Cobb sliding into third base under the leg of Jimmy Austin who then played third for the New York Yankees.

Charles Martin Conlon, who took the picture, didn't know he had it until he got back to the office that night to develop his plates.

The picture, widely printed since 1909, shows Ty Cobb sliding into third base under the leg of Jimmy Austin who then played third for the New York Yankees.

Conlon, who is now a proofreader on the New York Telegram, tells how he happened to get the immortal shot.

"Cobb was running wild on the bases that year, and the Tigers were fighting for a pennant. I used to spend a lot of time down near third base chatting with Jimmy Austin, who was a good friend of mine."

"Ty had worked his way down to second that day and the batter was trying to bunt. As the pitcher's arm went back to throw the ball Cobb sped for third. Austin backed into the bag for the throw and Cobb hurtled himself into the dirt, spikes flying."

FORGOT ABOUT PICTURE

"My first thought was that my friend Austin was going to be cut down by the Georgian. I stood there motionless with my box in my hand. I saw a blur of arms and legs through a screen of flying dirt. It was a bright day and I can still see Cobb's lips grimly parted and the sun glinting on his clenched teeth."

"Austin never got his hands on the catcher's throw. He was knocked over, but he wasn't hurt, however, and I was relieved because we were pretty good friends."

"Then I began to wonder if by any chance I had snapped the play. I couldn't remember, but I decided to play safe and change the plates anyway. It was lucky that I did, because when I printed up my stuff that night, there was the whole thing, as plain as day."

VETERAN PHOTOGRAPHER

Conlon has been snapping baseball pictures around here for twenty-five years. He was one of the first photographers to operate a camera in sports. His favorite subject was Christy Mathewson, whose graceful delivery made a pretty picture.

The veteran says Babe Ruth is both easy and hard to photograph. "Most hitters," says Conlon, "have a set arc through which they swing. But you never can tell about the Babe. Very few of his swings are made in the same circle, and if you aren't careful you are just as liable to get a picture of his hip pockets as not."

Bobby Jones On Golf

It is unfortunate from the point of view of observation and instruction that the most important part of the golf stroke proceeds at a pace too fast to be closely observed.

It is entirely responsible for the theory, held by many, that the power of the stroke is applied by a turnover of the wrist—by the right hand turning over the left and thus bringing the club head against the ball.

It is not surprising upon considering the position easily observed that such a theory should appear sound. Before reaching the hitting or speed area, the club is seen to extend backward with face open. The wrists of the player are cocked. After the ball has been struck the club slows down again. When it is next observed it is pointing horizontally almost along the line of flight, in which position it is seen that the hands have executed a full turnover. When last before the ball was hit the back of the left hand was presented to the front; when first seen after striking the ball, the back of the right hand is seen by the observer. The impression that the turnover occurs uniformly throughout the speed area is almost unavoidable.

Yet this is by no means the case, and that it is not a fine thing for every golfer to remember. This kind of a turnover, or the kind of wrist action necessary to accomplish this result is not the kind that produces successful shots. If you have been working with that picture before you it is time your ideas were corrected.

He speaks so much of the wrists and the cock of the wrists that there is a small reason to wonder at the prevalence of misconception in this direction. Wrist action which the expert employs is not the rolling kind it is sometimes thought to be.

To roll the right wrist over the left in hitting the ball would mean that the shoulders of the player would have to roll likewise, or at least that they should turn in a horizontal plane. This does not happen. In every case the right shoulder of the expert at impact is lower than the left and it continues around in this path to the finish. Actually, while there is a very active use of the wrists, still the right hand does not begin to turn over the left until the clubhead has passed the ball. This is a horizontal plane. This does not happen. In every case the right shoulder of the expert at impact is lower than the left and it continues around in this path to the finish. ## AN OLD TIMER'S SCRAPBOOK BY TIM MCGRATH

Sharkey-Jeffries Duel at Coney Island Packed Plenty of Thrills for Tim

"What do you consider the greatest heavyweight title fight?" a sports fan writes me. Well, for action, the Dempsey-Firpo battle was a whirling dervish. I didn't see that one. But I did see my greatest fight of that type in New York—the great twenty-five-round battle between Jeffries and Sharkey at Coney Island, in 1899.

This was the first indoor fight where movies were made. Over the ring were hundreds of arc lights. They gave out more heat than light. "Redd, it's like the tropics here," said Tom, as he entered the ring. The heat bothered both men until they started fighting. Then they forgot it.

Jeff came tearing out in the third. Sharkey missed a swing at him. Their heads cracked audibly. Sharkey went down, but was up in a moment, fighting furiously. The collision split open Tom's eye. Blood poured out. Tom fought on.

But Tom's courageous battle got its real setback in the ninth. In trying to land an overhand on Jeff's head Tom's left arm was thrown from its socket. After that he had to jump every time he tried to use his left arm. Colonel William A. Brady, Jeff's manager, and Billy Delaney, his trainer, saw this, and had Jeff drive his right into the sailor's side whenever he bumped. Tom complained of a "stitch" in his side. I knew Jeff was caving in his ribs.

He tore in as hard as he could. The crowd hissed a little. "No, Tom, they're hissing me," he said when he came to the corner. "No, Tom, it's noise from the electric lights," I told him.

DEMPSEY TO GO HUNTING

Former Heavyweight Champion Will Go After Big Game in Africa

Chicago, April 23.—Jack Dempsey is going to Africa to hunt big game. Apparently postponing whatever plans he had of a ring comeback attempt, the "Manassa Mauler" has accepted the invitation of George F. Getz, Chicago millionaire sportsman and big game hunter, to try his aim at lions and tigers in the African wilds next winter.

Dempsey plans to take boxing gloves and other ring accoutrements along, however, for conditional workouts and to teach the savages the many art of defence.

"Maybe I'll find a new heavyweight champion on one of our safaris," Dempsey banters. "Who can tell? Anyway, I hope I don't miss my aim at any lions. It's tougher to aim and miss at a lion than it is to miss fire at some heavyweights you know."

Many of the former champion's friends believe his trip to Africa will definitely close his ring career if it hasn't already been closed.

St. Louis Southpaw Turns Back Chicago For Second Defeat

Champion Cubs Unable to Do A Thing With Offerings of Hill Hallahan and Lose 8-3; Hack Wilson poles Out Home Run; Klein and Friberg Hit for Circuit As Phillis Win; Bing Miller's Home Run Gives A's Win Over Yanks; Washington and St. Louis Browns Win Extra Inning Affairs.

Chicago Cubs may be champions of the National League and a generally dangerous team, but they are just another ball club where Hill Hallahan of St. Louis is concerned. Hallahan, left-handed pitcher who failed to live up to expectations last season, already has beaten the Cubs twice this season. In two games, the Cubs have scored just four runs off Hallahan's delivery, three of them coming from a homer by Hack Wilson yesterday as the Cardinals scored an 8-3 triumph.

In the only other National League game played due to rain, Philadelphia beat out Brooklyn Robins, 8-5. Chuck Klein and Barney Friberg each got a homer in the first inning, to gain a 3-0 lead, and Klein added a double and two singles in four times at bat.

The champion Philadelphia Athletics continued to set the pace for the American League by demonstrating to a New York crowd of 66,000, the largest turnout so far this season, just how to beat the Yankees. A home run in the ninth inning by Bing Miller gave the Athletics a 7-6 victory.

Washington continued its smart playing, to nose out the surprising Boston Red Sox, 4-3, in a twelve-inning duel between Charley Ruffing of Boston and three Senators moundmen. Ruffing struck out eight.

St. Louis Browns had to go thirteen innings to gain a 3-4 victory over Detroit after the Tigers had scored twice in the ninth to tie the score.

Seattle, April 23.—Through the remarkable hitting of their fiery manager, Ernie Johnson, the Seattle Indians won their opening day ball game on the home turf from the Hollywood stars, here yesterday. The score was 7 to 6. Johnson batted in six of Seattle's seven runs. He slammed out a single in the top of the second, and in the third inning to tie the count at two-all. He crashed a home run over the left field fence in the fifth with two on to knot the score again at five-all, and he gave the Indians their winning tally in the seventh when he batted in Ellsworth.

PASSMORE HEADS

WARD LIBERALS

Named President of Ward Seven Group in Saanich; O'Halloran Speaks
H. Passmore was named president of the Ward Seven Saanich Liberal Association last night, replacing Francis Simpson, who has been named returning officer for Nanaimo Federal riding.

C. H. O'Halloran, Liberal candidate in the riding, addressed the meeting, outlining the splendid financial record of the Mackenzie King administration. Revenue had increased, taxes reduced the national debt had been cut and services to the public increased.

In British Columbia under a Conservative government, the public indebtedness was increasing alarmingly, and already many new taxes had been imposed. Mr. O'Halloran spoke at some length on the vital importance of the external trade of Canada, affecting as it does our national welfare.

He pointed out that Canada ranked fifth in the nations of the world. It was notable that the greatest advance had been made during the period the Mackenzie King government had been in power. The policies of the government had been directed by means of trade treaties, appointment of ambassadors and trade commissions in the furtherance of extensive trade development.

David Ramsay, president Saanich Liberal Association, dealt with the unemployment situation in Canada, in the United States and Australia. He argued that the low tariff policy of the Liberal administration had reacted favorably in this country, in comparison with the alarming increase in unemployment in the United States and Australia when high protection is in effect. Both speakers were accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Ramsay served refreshments.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1930

This should be a lucky day, according to astrology. It is a time of special significance for workers, making for labor adjustments and changes in wage scales.

The early hours of the day are auspicious for interviewing employers or for seeking positions of any sort.

Increased activity in manufacturing is foretold and much unexpected demand for Canadian products is indicated.

World conditions are to be of tremendous importance to trade and commerce in this country, it is predicted.

This is foretold a lucky time for real estate transactions. Many cities are to improve greatly, for building will be pushed in many parts of the country, astrologers forecast.

The rule is favorable to road building and also interest in beautifying our highways.

As the seers prophesied the vanishing of unshapely signs and buildings along the highways.

Astrologers long have prophesied increase of travel from foreign countries, which will end many students as well as business men to this country in the coming summer.

Washington and New York will entertain foreign statesmen, if the stars are rightly read, and important international problems will be discussed on this side of the Atlantic Ocean.

While this configuration prevails the mind should be active and the brain clear.

Warnings are plentiful given that earthquakes in places seldom subject to tremors may cause damage, generally slight.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the suzerainty of a year that promises prosperity in return for hard work. Young persons should apply themselves to their studies.

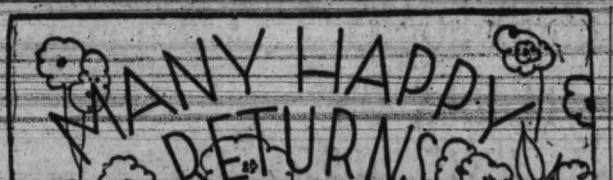

Children born on this day probably will be well favored and progressive in their ideas. The subjects of this sign are usually resourceful and original in their habits of thought.

Edmund Cartwright, inventor, was born on this day, 1743. John Turnbull, 1760, poet and jurist, also claimed this as his birthday.

Boy Gave Up Safety To Make His Own Way
Stephen Douglas didn't want to be ungrateful, but he did want an education—so much. His father was dead, and so he and his mother lived with his mother's brother, a farmer. Stephen worked on the farm all summer.

When he asked his uncle to lend him enough money to finish high school and go to college, his uncle refused. He thought it was all nonsense. He wanted Stephen to leave school and stay on the farm.

Stephen talked it over with his mother, and she told him she wanted him to follow his own heart. But if he stayed on the farm, he would one day have to do for himself. If he went out in the world, he was taking a chance.

Stephen didn't hesitate. The next day he walked fourteen miles to the nearest large town and took a position with a cabinet maker, so that he might save money to finish his education.

Stephen Douglas, born in Vermont, April 23, 1813, became a famous statesman. (Copyright, 1930, by Republic Syndicate, Inc.)

Aldermen of Toronto Boost Their Salaries

Vote Preceded By Hot Debate; Ratepayers' Association May Ask Courts to Veto Increases

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 23.—Climaxing a lengthy session, which at times became very heated in the open atmosphere of members toward each other, the Toronto city council yesterday evening by a vote of twenty-one to eight adopted the board of control's recommendation providing funds for salary increases totaling $17,850 for aldermen, controllers and the mayor.

Keen opposition to the council's proposal to increase salaries had been expressed on all sides, and as soon as it became known the increases had been approved ratepayers of the Central Association announced an emergency meeting would be held Thursday when decision to take legal action to restrain the council from securing the increases would be discussed.

Two resolutions were adopted by the conference yesterday. One urged nationalization of banking on the ground that it was dangerous to leave control of the country's finances in the hands of the Bank of England and the "big five" banks—a monopolizing clique.

The other resolution deplored the failure of the government to make greater provision in the Snowden budget for what the resolution termed the necessary social services.

Mrs. Mann, a Glasgow delegate, said she refused to tell working women to support a government under which it would take at least forty years to bring socialism, and Miss Dorothy Jewson, former parliamentary member for Norwich, advocated an agitation for the removal of Mr. Snowden from the position of Chancellor of the Exchequer unless he was willing to "mend his ways."

HEAD OF CHINESE RESTAURANTS CHOSEN FOR FILM ROLE

King Ho-Chang, who plays Jim in the British International picture, "Piccadilly," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is a familiar figure to many patrons of the West End of London.

For a number of years he has been part proprietor of the successful chain of restaurants catering specially for Chinese residents in London. His appearance in "Piccadilly" was in the nature of an accident—Mr. Dupont, the casting director, realizing an ideal type when dining at King Ho-Chang's restaurant in Wardour Street, and offering him the part at once.

COHENS AND KELLYS VISIT SCOTLAND IN THEIR LATEST FILM

George Sidney and Charlie Murray, famous stage and screen comedians, played the leading roles in the first and fourth of the hilarious Universal series, the latest of which "The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland" is showing all this week at the Capitol Theatre.

Production of the first of the series "The Cohens and Kellys," was held up for nearly a year because Charlie Murray was unable to get out of previous stage and screen contracts. When the picture was made, Universal executives declared the results more than justified the delay.

The same thing happened to "The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland." Production was delayed for months because George Sidney could not get away, due to the success which he was scoring in "Rabbit" on the stage. And the picture, Universal executives again declared, more than made up for the delay.

TOBY LEITCH IN COMEDY ROLE AT VARIETY THEATRE

Laughter and tense dramatic situations distinguish the comedy-drama, "Toby on the Spot," which the Toby Leitch Players are producing at the Variety Theatre this week.

Raymond Toby Leitch is a scream in the starring comic role. He is cast in a part which gives ample scope for his flashing wit and humor.

"Toby on the Spot" is a play of modern New York life. Its gripping plot tells the story of a wealthy pillar of society whom fate eventually reveals in his true colors as a criminal.

In addition to tense drama and a hilarious comedy, the play is given a shining lustre of romance by a very charming story of love, in which Leone Weber is the heroine. Leone is splendid in the role of a New York shop-girl.

Arrangements are being pushed for the Musical Festival to be held in Victoria May 6 to 10 inclusive. The programme—a colossal piece of work—is in the hands of the printers. Competitive cards are now being sent to composers, as the festival itself is only two weeks off.

The committee is expecting the sale of the membership tickets will reach the same large number as last year, when there were 800 tickets provided and sold. These tickets, only $1.00 each, admit one to all day sessions of the competition programme and at half price to all evening sessions except the final concert on Saturday night.

The final concert will take the form of two concerts—one in the Metropolitan Church and the other in the First United Church. This is being done because there is no building in Victoria large enough to accommodate the numbers of people who will wish to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing these concerts. It is confidently expected that both halls will be filled to capacity. The tickets for either hall will be fifty cents, with no cut for ticket holders that one night. At every other evening concert membership tickets holders will be admitted at half price. It is the expectation of the committee that the whole community will get wholeheartedly behind them, encourage students in their educational activities, give a helping hand to deserving talent, thus making the forthcoming festival the greatest thus far given.

Membership tickets may be obtained at any of the music stores or from any of the committee.

Success of William K. Howard as a director is ascribed to his thorough knowledge of all angles of the motion picture business. Howard, who directed the Fox movie "Love, Live and Laugh," starring George Jessel, at the Playhouse Theatre, started his screen career as a film-talking. Later he was transferred to Hollywood and learned the production end of pictures from the bottom to the top.

JEAN ARTHUR HAS FEMININE LEAD IN "YOUNG EAGLES"

Jean Arthur, who played the feminine lead in Charles (Buddy) Rogers' starring picture, "Half Way to Heaven," is the eagle's mate in "Young Eagles," the thrilling romance of the sky-fighters, which will show at the Dominion Theatre for the last time to-day.

"Young Eagles" brings to the screen all the spectacular glory of "Wings," all its thrills, joy and pathos, and it's all-talking. William A. Wellman, director of "Wings," made the picture, and many of the dare-devil airmen who contributed the hazardous and breath-taking flying to the great air epic bring their hair-raising stunts to this picture.

BENEFIT FOR RED CROSS AT ROYAL THEATRE TO-NIGHT

"The Man From Toronto," a charming comedy with which the Gordon McLeod Players reopened their season on Monday has so far proved a very welcome offering. It is a fine clear comedy which is never farcical, but there is delightful fun which keeps the audience in a ripple of laughter throughout.

Lillian Christine and Claude Bailey, who bear the brunt of the work, give both charming and clever renderings of their respective roles. James McGrath is most amusing as a crusty old lawyer with a kind heart, and Margaret St. Barbe-West has a dainty little part as a maid, while Roland Gillett as an artistic and impetuous young man is always droll. All the minor roles are well filled.

The scene of an old cottage by the sea is typical of many to be found in England.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance to-night as a percentage of the proceeds is to be given to the Red Cross.

IMMIGRATION CONFERENCE ON THE PRAIRIES

Premiers to Meet in Winnipeg Next Week; Surplus of Labor Exists Now

Edmonton, April 23.—An inter-provincial conference called for the purpose of deciding upon one general immigration policy for the prairie provinces will be held in Winnipeg early next week. The tentative date for the conference has been set as Tuesday, April 29.

Those taking part in the conference will be Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan and Hon. George Hoodley, acting Premier of Alberta.

In announcing the calling of the prairie, Hon. George Hoodley said unemployed men already have in the west. It is imperative by the governments of the prairie provinces.

Both the premiers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan agreed to the proposed conference with enthusiasm.

"It is not that we wish permanently to stop immigration, but rather to shut off the flow of labor until such time as we can dispose of the surplus workers we already have in the west," Mr. Hoodley pointed out. "We will not, of course, ask for the exclusion of immigrants with sufficient funds to start in farming and support themselves. It is only those classified as laborers whom we wish stopped so they will not become a burden on the country. Approximately thirty per cent. of those on the unemployed lists at present are Central Europeans."

DOMINION CONFERENCE
Ottawa, April 23.—The meeting of the premiers of the prairie provinces to discuss immigration is taken here as a preliminary to the Dominion conference to be held probably in June, to which all the provinces will be asked to send representatives.

Immigration officials explained that under the agreement with the railway companies they have until May 31 to complete their movement of farm laborers from Central Europe.

TO DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, April 23.—Wheat: Opened about one cent higher, largely based on the strength in Liverpool. Last market more than following the late upturn on this side yesterday. The market held mostly firm during the first half of the day with a little buying by stock-board houses against sales made overnight which was estimated at half a million bushels. There was also a little buying by commission houses and with offerings on the light side it was not difficult to take the slack of the market.
During the last part of the day there was further moderate buying by exporters and seaboard houses, which was believed to be lifting of spreads against small odd lots that had been worked the past five or six days and prices in the May month advanced about two cents above the close last night.

Seaboard advices were to the effect that a much better foreign business had been worked late yesterday, with total sales for the day placed at two million bushels, but this amount could not be traced here, and it was understood that a considerable amount of American durum and some American hard winters had been worked, due probably to the fact that the Winnipeg market had gone to over four cents premium for May over Chicago.

During the late hour there was considerable short covering going on and while offerings were a little more liberal on the extreme bulge, they were well taken and the market was able to hold strong. There was a fair demand in the cash market.

Lake navigation is expected to open over the week end, but so far as can be learned an extremely small tonnage has been booked, and shippers are not inclined to put further stocks across the lakes until supplies now in eastern positions has been cleared up. Would sell wheat on any further upturn in the morning.

Flax—This market was boosted, but actual business was extremely small. Liverpool due 1 to 1 1/4 higher on Winnipeg.

STANDARD OF U.S.
SOARS TO NEW HIGH.
BUT COPPERS SLUMP

By Associated Press
New York, April 23.—Late selling of U.S. Steel and the copper issues contrasted with heavy buying of Standard Oil of New Jersey, United Carbon and selected utilities on the New York Stock Exchange to-day.

Peoples Gas rose 10 1/2. Detroit Edison 7. Stone and Webster 5. United Carbon 4 1/2. Standard of New Jersey 5. Radio Keith Orpheum advanced more than six points and Columbia Gramophone 3.

INDUSTRIALS AND RAILS OFF
New York, April 23.—(B.C. Bond)—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials stood at 288.78, off 1.29 points; for 20 railroads, off 0.25 points; and for 20 utilities at 107.93, up 0.85 points.

NEARS 1929 HIGH
Standard Oil of New Jersey climbed from 78 to-day broke through its year's high at 83 and came to within a few points of its extreme 1929 high.

The sharp advance in this leader brought about broadened trading activities in other parts of the oil list and a representative number of oil issues were absorbed at rising prices, helping to offset the reactionary tendencies in the 20 railroads.

HIG TRADE TO-DAY
The market was a broad affair to-day, with sales amounting to a total of 5,558,000 shares.

Call money eased from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.

MORE NEW HIGHS
Radio Keith Orpheum rose from 43 1/2 to make a new high at 49 1/2.

Lowell's Inc. rose one and one-half points to a new high at 73 1/2.

Radio Corporation made a new high on the move at 68 1/2, and then eased off to 65 1/2.

Electric Power and Light made a new high early at 103 1/2, and then broke five points.

WEAK IN LAST HOUR
The market was under pressure in the last hour, led by weakness in the coppers.

Anacostia broke from 66 1/2 to a new low at 63 and Kennecott dropped from 49 1/2 to a new low at 47 1/2.

Andes Copper made a new low at 29 1/2. International Nickel got to 36 as 36 1/2.

VANADIUM OFF SHARPLY
National Cash Register eased to a new low at 58.

From 139 1/2, Vanadium broke to 130.

DIVIDEND DECLARED
Montgomery Ward declared its regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on the common, payable May 14.

Yellow Truck and Coach for the quarter ended March 31 shows a consolidated net profit of $105,844, equal to 70 cents a share, against 39 cents a share in the first quarter of 1929.

United Gas Improvement declared its regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents on the common, payable June 30.

FOREIGN BUYING RESUMED
The New York Times says that following a lull during the last fortnight in foreign buying of securities in this market, there is evidence that the week's buying from this quarter has resumed on a moderately large scale.

RAIL EARNINGS DISCOURAGING
It is pointed out by The Herald-Tribune that current reports on the position of the railroads are discouraging.

The latter will be able to approach anything like their so-called fair rate of return during 1930.

NEW GROUP IN PACKARD
A new group in Packard has just commenced in Packard Motor, The N.Y. American says, to-day.

ICE PROFITS LOWER
American Ice Company for the March quarter shows a profit of $230,248, after interest, but before depreciation, the company says, against $930,007 in the first quarter of 1929.

DANGEROUS FOR SHORTS
The Wall Street Mirror to-day issued the following to its clients:

"The ease with which the market snapped back from its low points on Tuesday showed that it is not one to be short of. Furthermore, it shows that orders should be placed for stocks at or near the resistance points encountered on Tuesday. There are numerous issues, such as the railroad equipments, the coppers and several of the specialties, which have shown special weakness, which should be held severely alone. Do not get too bullish on the market. It also tempts your bullish inclinations.

CASE SPLIT-UP DUE
The split-up in Case Threshing Machine is very close at hand. The stock has now advanced from a low of 130, made in the November crash, and will sell materially higher. Earnings are still reported as running extremely high.

Fairbanks-Morse is scheduled to sell higher. The company's 1929-1930 has shown average earnings of $5.43 a share. In 1929, $5.05 a share was shown. Investment trust buying has been seen in the Standard Oil of New Jersey.

The objective of the group in Corn Products Refining called to your attention on Tuesday is 120.

Further advance will be seen in Fox. A price of around 70 is heard for the stock, coupled with reports of dividend resumption. Advance in Fox probably will carry along General Theatre Equipment. In this connection a point advance in General Theatre Equipment means two points for the new bonds.

Business Confidence
Return Looked For

"There can be no question but that banking interests are in strict accord with the Hoover programme for stimulation of business and relief of unemployment," says The Brookline Analyst in a review of business and market conditions.

"This attitude toward business, by the administration and moneyed interests has created a rather general feeling of optimism. The belief that business is going to turn definitely for the better in the not distant future has been a big factor in creating business confidence, and not without good reason.

"A recovery in the value of common stocks, of the magnitude seen since the November crash, will furnish the basis for a resumption in buying of automobiles and other commodities on a much larger scale than has been witnessed in recent months."

Graham Motor Sales
Above Expectations

Detroit, April 23.—Ray A. Graham, treasurer of Graham-Paige Motors Corporation, told stockholders at the annual meeting here that current reports would indicate that the company is enjoying a volume of business in excess of what normally would be expected.

Mr. Graham emphasized the growth of the dealer organization and the present sound financial condition. At the end of 1929 the company had 2,956 dealers, against 2,270 at the end of 1928 and 823 at the end of 1927. Graham April shipments are expected to total 8,501, compared with 4,937 in March.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown &amp; Co. Limited)

New York, April 23.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

RALLY CONCLUSION
EARLY TO-DAY

"It was expected that Tuesday's market would produce a rally, although, as it did develop, was perhaps entitled to a better description than which was given it here, viz: 'A Fluffy Rally.' The fact remains, however, that it is a rally and nothing more, which represents, on the whole, every moderate retracement of the five and one-half-point industrial decline of Monday, and the less radical decline in the rail and utility groups of the same day, and in no way alters the short-term trend, which is downward."

"I continue to believe that this 1930 market is going to very closely approximate the 1908 market, just as it has done in the first phase of advance price calling for an interruption to the advance, which should find its bottom approximately ten points below yesterday's close. Thereafter I expect the advance to be resumed, and prices substantially higher than have been witnessed this year."

"As stated yesterday, I expect one group to break away from the general market trend at this time, and the advance steadily through the period of correction which we are now in. This is the oil group, and advantage should be taken throughout this period of reaction for the purchase of the most promising oil stocks."

COMMENT

"So long as Standard Oil of New Jersey is obtainable below 80 a share, it should be purchased. As a matter of fact, there need be little hesitancy in even following it beyond that price, as I am quite confident that we shall witness Standard of New Jersey at about 120 a share this year."

"In the low-priced oil nothing appears so attractive as the active share which the Rockefeller purchased along with their buying of New Jersey. In the November crash, Transcontinental, which is the owner of the greatest oil reserve in the country to-day, and must be considered as a buying range at any figure below 25 a share."

"A word about International Utilities. It is one of the issues which should be held or bought irrespective of general market action, as I am advised plans have been definitely made for the retirement of the stock at its callable price, which is 60 a share."

"Radio, which you were given as one of the issues which would 'buck the trend' has I believe, been completed on the venture. Data has been prepared. Probably locations have been surveyed, and the financial aspect of the enterprise is now being given consideration."

Mr. Gioia points out that the same plan has been carried out with success in some parts of eastern Canada, where hotels known as English Inns are operated by one company directing visitors from one hotel to another during their tour. The main hotel is usually located in a large city from where the traveler maps his itinerary and in case of Vancouver the headquarters would be Victoria."

Mr. Gioia says in his report: "Dotted all over Vancouver Island are comparatively small summer hotels which cater almost exclusively to summer visitors. Although more are being built each year all of these establishments to date are successful, and judging from advance reservations for the coming summer their business will not in any way be adversely affected by the recent depression. With the increasing number of visitors it is quite clear that there is ample openings for many more of these country inns on Vancouver Island, the majority of which are at present managed by people who have had no previous hotel experience."

PLANS TO RISE
THE NEWSPRINT
PRICE DEBATED

Canadian Manufacturers Suggest $60 a Ton By 1933

New York, April 23.—A proposal to increase newsprint prices over a period of years—$2 a ton in 1931, $2 in 1932, and $2 in 1933—submitted by the Newspaper Institute of Canada, was presented to-day at the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. The present price is $55 a ton.

The proposal was submitted in the report of the newspaper committee, which, although it gave its tacit approval to the plan, made no definite recommendations as to its acceptance.

On motion of F. P. Glass of Montgomery, Ala., the committee was instructed to recommend to the convention to-morrow the motion followed a long debate on the floor of the convention.

If accepted, the advancing scale of prices would bring the price to $60 a ton in 1933, a price the newspaper manufacturers attempted to put into effect last year without success. At that time, however, the manufacturers wished to raise the price immediately to $60 a ton.

The Newspaper Institute represents the paper manufacturers of Canada, chief suppliers of the newspapers of the United States.

Appointment of committees was made before adjournment for luncheon.

Major H. B. King and T. Calder, chief writers of to-day, is widely mentioned for the post of Post Laureate of England, made vacant by the death of Dr. Robert Bridges.

The King confers the title of Post Laureate on the poet laureate of the United States. So far Premier MacDonald has made no announcement. He probably will make none until after the death of Mr. Bridges, since before the war.

In addition to Kipling, Alfred Noyes, Walter de la Mare, Sir William Watson and Sir Henry Newbolt are considered possibilities.

Government To Take Arterial Highway Control

Vancouver, April 23.—Declaration of arterial highways to be taken over and completely maintained by the Province of British Columbia, as provided for in the new Highways and Traffic Control Act passed last session, will be made very shortly, said Hon. J. S. Lougheed, Minister of Public Works, to-day.

P. Philip, Deputy Minister, and other officials have already assembled most of the data necessary for making these decisions, he said.

Extradition Sought On Narcotic Charges

Vancouver, April 23.—Extradition of Jack Sieman, whose removal by legal process to the United States has long been desired by American authorities, is sought now for alleged violation of the narcotic drug laws of the State of California.

A warrant, charging Sieman with infraction of the state poison law, was issued by Judge J. H. Morrison, sitting as extradition commissioner.

Into conference. He feared a break for liberty over the stockade and over the side house.

Lockhart reported that much to his surprise the prisoners quieted down at dawn and retired to their cells.

Coffee is proving a "life-saver" to the guards. Time and again, when the prisoners became restless, a hot coffee was served and almost immediately the men became quiet.

WARDEN'S DAUGHTER HEROINE

Columbus, Ohio, April 23.—Miss Amanda Thomas, daughter of Warden Thomas, who always sought to relieve her father of many of his routine burdens, was the heroine of the penitentiary fire here Monday night, which is the distributing center for news of this character, indicating that what we had noted on our plates was the same plan as that whose discovery was recently announced by the Arizona observatory.

"We are now examining our older charts, going back to 1906, to see if we can pick it up. If we can find it on these it will determine a good orbit."

CITY OPPOSES BEER LICENSE AT GOLDSTREAM

A WET DISTRICT

Mayor Anconab—Mr. Preston told me about this, and I took the position that it was impudence on our part to even suggest to the liquor control board what it should do. The Goldstream premises are outside of our property and in a district that has already voted "wet."

Alderman Mars—We have roads going all through the watersheds and we can't stop them now from taking beer there in cars and drinking it by the roadside.

HUNTERS BANNED

Alderman Peden—The council thought enough about its watershed to keep special legislation to keep out hunters. If it is impudence on our part to advise the Liquor Board, it was impudence on our part to advise the council about the watershed. The point is the same.

Alderman Worthington—Mr. Preston has certain regulations to keep in respect to our water supply, and he fears they will be broken if a beer license is granted so close to the watershed.

Alderman Woodward and Litchfield moved the endorsement of the action taken by the city water commissioner, and this carried. Mayor Anconab and Alderman Mars voted in the negative.

PARENT-TEACHER
LEADERS MEET
IN VANCOUVER

Four-year High School Course Among Topics of Discussion at Sessions

Vancouver, April 23.—An interesting program features the eighth annual convention of the Provincial Parent-Teacher Federation of British Columbia, which is being held in the Kitano High School to-day and Thursday.

Registration of delegates to the convention took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock, and Rev. J. A. Taylor opened the session with prayer at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Mahon, president of the federation, is presiding over all sessions.

This morning address of welcome was given as follows: City Mayor W. H. Malkin; Department of Education, Dr. S. J. Willis; B.C. Teachers' Association, G. B. Lefroy; Vancouver Board of School Trustees, W. J. Baird; Principal of the Kitano High School, Major H. B. King, and the Provincial Parent-Teacher Federation executive, Mrs. A. E. Delmage.

Mrs. G. B. Bentz, North Bend, made the reply.

FOUR-YEAR COURSE

At 10:45 a round table discussion on a four-year high school course was led by Major H. B. King, Vancouver; T. Calder, New Westminster; and Mrs. T. Baird, Nanaimo.

Appointment of committees was made before adjournment for luncheon.

Major H. B. King and T. Calder speaking in favor of the four-year course, declared it would be to the advantage of students, teachers and parents, for such a procedure would allow students to concentrate on courses which they were specially adapted.

KIPLING IS NOW MENTIONED AS POET LAUREATE

London, April 23.—Rudyard Kipling, one of the most widely known and read writers of to-day, is widely mentioned for the post of Post Laureate of England, made vacant by the death of Dr. Robert Bridges.

The King confers the title of Post Laureate on the poet laureate of the United States. So far Premier MacDonald has made no announcement. He probably will make none until after the death of Mr. Bridges, since before the war.

Luney and Eve
Give Report On
Cananea MineWalter Luney and Cecil H. Eve returned to Victoria after their motor tour to California and Arizona, where they completed a check-up of the property of the North Cananea Consolidated Mining Company at Cananea on behalf of the group of Victoria investors who are largely financing the operations and the brokerage firm of Meharry, Roe & Co.

Mr. Luney explained that the property is developed principally through a main three compartment shaft, 380 feet deep, with levels at 200 and 350 feet depth, and almost 3,000 feet of cross cutting and drift on the 350-foot level. Practically all drifting is in ore, which has been developed for a length of 1,300 feet north of the shaft for 500 feet on the No. 1 vein and south of the shaft for 700 feet on the No. 2 vein. These veins are spaced about 100 feet apart, and additional development is daily extending the length of the ore developed. Cross-cutting on the 350-foot level has cut to date four different veins from a few inches to several feet in width. The ore averages about 28 ounces silver, 5.5 per cent lead, 2 per cent copper, 5.5 per cent zinc and 10 per cent gold. The ore is contained in a series of four to eight feet wide, in one place being twenty feet wide. Between the 350 and 200-foot levels, over 50,000 tons of ore is developed, and there is a tonnage of higher grade ore available for mining above the 200-foot level not figured in these ore reserves.

Fifteen separate ore bodies have now been mapped out by the geophysical survey, Mr. Luney said. The property comprises 900 acres adjoining the famous Green Cananea.

Give Your Children BOYRIL and Build up Their Strength

The Princess and the Perjurer

Allan Hillgarth

Gorko saw I wasn't bluffing, but he laughed.

"He won't dare to move. The town's full of revolutionaries. If he sends out the full of revolutionaries, he can trust, he'll have the place about his ears."

"Ah, the Communist! revolution is due to-night, of course!"

"You've said it. In a few hours time

all Georgia will be in our hands."

"So I haven't a chance?"

"I let him enjoy that thought for a moment, then I said, "You would be right, if I were Stepan Ouspensky. Unfortunately for you, I'm not. Your friends can't carry out their plans to-night, because they were all arrested

last night on information supplied by me. Yes, every one of them, in

Batum, in Kutais, in Tiflis, in every town in Georgia! You don't believe me? I think you'll be convinced, when

General Mdavani arrives. I've known all your plans, all your dispositions.

All your meeting places, for over a week. Comrade Sokolov was careless,

so what I couldn't learn in talk with him I found by reading through his papers. Lists of names and addresses, codes, ciphers, passwords—I knew everything and I left it all in a sealed packet with the captain of the British cruiser. Oh, I told him very little, but he understood he was to open the packet if he didn't hear from me for forty-eight hours, or if instructions were brought to him by an American friend of mine, Nina Alexandrovna, prompted by you, was suspicious of

Comrade Ouspensky and had me watched, but I had an agreed signal with my friend and I gave it a few minutes before I was seized by the Prince and Princess here. That was two nights ago, and even if my friend

failed to understand my signal or was delayed, Captain Chubb must have opened that packet at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the last forty-eight hours were up. You see? The Military Governor must have been informed very soon afterwards, and the arrests would naturally take place last night. I knew the other part of your plan too. When the Red Army attacks along the frontier to-night, it will get no inside assistance and will be heavily repulsed."

Whatever Gorko was thinking, his face betrayed nothing. Yet I felt he believed me at last.

"So I think it is you who have the one chance in a million," I added.

"Perhaps," said he quietly. "If all you say is true, you may claim a temporary victory. But you've only possessed revolution here, not broken it."

"I don't deny that possibility."

"I wonder if you realize what you have done?" he went on, his calm eyes

holding mine. "Englishman or Russian, I saved your life and unwittingly made plain all my secrets to you. In return, you betray me. Nina loved you.

You betrayed her, too."

"That's a lie. Had Nina lived, she would have escaped arrest."

"She wasn't on your lists?"

"No."

"It's a small detail. Don't you understand, you dull Englishman, that by your act of treachery—yes, you may be an Englishman, but I know it by no other name—quite damn soon

harm to Russia than a thousand Len-ins? You know our plans; you know the real reason for the Centre's exis-ence."

"Admitted," said I. "Of course I know, but what difference could it make to me? And the Centre will succeed in the end. Leninism can't last for ever. The revolutionary pendulum can't swing any farther to the left and can't stay where it is. I respect many of your aims. I believe the Centre will do great work for Russia.

But I tell you, Sergei Alexovitch, that your work will benefit no one, if you allow an unreasonable hatred to govern your actions. Once you spoke to me of the great pogrom, the last pog-

rom. Oh, I know you aren't alone in this bloody intention, for half Russia's mad with the anti-Semitic madness. Yes, it is a madness! There are five or six millions of Jews in Russia, and of those not more than a few thousands deserve punishment. You say Trotsky, Zinoviev, Radek and the others must die and all other Jews

with them. You would, then, murder

the Jewish-Mensheviks and Liberals, of whom there are ten times the number. And you would let Russian madmen, such as Lenin, go free? No, listen!

I warn you that your bloodiness will bring about your own destruction. You talk of madness. You are mad yourself, Sergei Alexovitch!"

"The whole world is mad," said

Gorko, unmoved. "Russia needs a cleansing—"

"So you would make a massacre?"

Poor Russia, to be at the mercy of you and your friends! Poor, downtrodden

Jews, on whom every party in power visits its displeasure! Even their own brethren, their renegade brethren,

to-day!"

"Now I am sure you are an Englishman," said Gorko dryly.

CHAPTER XXI

The Prince cried a warning from the doorway, and I smiled.

"We are approaching the end,"

Nadya said. "Do you hear them?"

They sound excited."

Half an hour had passed in silence.

It was rather an anxious time for me,

but I tried to appear perfectly self-possessed. Gorko leant back on the divan with his eyes closed, and, knowing his fertile brain, I wondered more than once what thoughts were busy behind that mask-like countenance.

The Princess had pulled up a chair

beside me, and I discovered after a while that sheer fatigue had sent her to sleep. Her head rested on my shoulder; her hair touched my cheek.

Even in her slumber, however, she still clutched her pistol with fierce tenacity.

When her brother's warning came, she opened her eyes and at my words she smiled.

"What are you going to do?" she asked quietly, her voice implying complete confidence in me.

Outside a babel of shouts was approaching, and running feet were loud

even on the snow. I looked at Prince

Boris, rigid by the door, at Gorko, wide awake now and watching me, and turned my eyes at last to Nadya.

"Nothing, little sister," I said, smiling. "Haven't we a hostage?"

She laughed quite gaily, and I addressed Gorko.

"Sergei Alexovitch! Your men are panic-stricken because their outposts

have observed our friends coming up the path, and they are coming to you for orders. They can't escape, as the other way is certain to be occupied.

For can they resist ten times their number for more than a few minutes?

I want you to give them orders to surrender."

He said nothing.

"You refuse?" Well, I shall have to make up my mind. I added, lifting my revolver. "If your precious

comrades burst in here, I shall shoot

you as sure as there's a God in Heaven."

"There isn't," he said calmly.

"You refuse?" Well, I shall have to make up my mind. I added, lift-

ing my revolver. "If your precious

comrades burst in here, I shall shoot

you as sure as there's a God in

Heaven."

"I understand," she interrupted.

"Quick! They're here."

The din was almost at the door. I got up, summoning all my strength,

and walked past Prince Boris into the darkness outside. I was only just in time. A dozen excited men surged round me.

"The soldiers!" they were shouting.

"Comrade Commandant! The soldiers are just below the village. It is pitch dark, but one fellow carried a lantern, and I snatched it from him to hold it above my head, so that they could see my face. I was unarmed, having left my pistol within.

"Silence!" I roared. "Listen to me!"

They were quiet at once, but a startling rattle of rifle fire near at hand set them yelling again.

"The soldiers . . . where is the Commandant?"

Somebody pushed against me, and I swung the lantern heavily into his face.

"Get back! Now listen to me! The village is surrounded by ten thousand men, so resistance is useless. You've seen with your own eyes, haven't you?

Listen to that! Another crashing volley rang out. "Go back to your comrades and tell them to lay down their arms. Go quickly, before you're all massacred by the soldiers!"

They were demoralized, leaderless, shaken. But one soldier then the rest pushed forward and lifted his bayonet.

"Who art thou?" he growled. "Bourgeois. . . ."

I saw half a dozen rifles raised menacingly.

"Where is the Commandant?" came a shout. "Dog of a Denikist! Kill him!"

"Fools!" I roared at them. "Put down your rifles! I'm here one among you knows Yegor Pankratov, of the Green Guard. He's a Denikist, not

The Born Philanderer Deceives Himself When He Believes That His Wife Condones His Conduct or That His Skill in the Art of Making Love Can Ever Make Up for a Broken Heart

A MAN who goes in for philandering in a serious way, so to speak, has this to say in favor of the love pirate: "I am a born philanderer. I was married in my teens and am now almost thirty-five. I love my wife very dearly; work eight to ten hours a day for her; know that she still gets a kick out of flowers and candy, and I send and take them to her often; when the biscuits are good, I rave about them; when the steak is tough, I keep my mouth shut. I give her a generous allowance for the housekeeping and for her own personal use.

She knows that I philander, but she also knows that she has a place in my heart that no other woman in this or the next world could ever fill, and I believe that she is far happier than most of the wives whose husbands would never dream of having an affair. She is such an understanding soul that she realizes I could no more stop philandering than a born gambler could stay away from the green-top tables.

"My experience in love-making has been both large and wide. Like all true philanderers, I have made a real study of it and tried to develop it into an art. I am constantly studying the effect of this or that move, and endeavoring to improve my technique.

"The lure of philandering comes from the battle of wits between a man and a woman and the skill it takes to make a woman tremble to his touch. Therefore, the philanderer does not care for young girls who are amateurs in love. The true philanderer would get the same thrill from matching wits with a young girl, who lacked the experience with her own passions to enable her to develop skill, that an expert checker player would find in playing with a three-year-old child. As to her love-making, it would bore the man who was at all adept at it to death.

"No. A real philanderer seeks the woman of the world who is neither to be had for the asking nor easily won. He may enjoy the company of a young girl for an evening, but she is as safe with him, perhaps safer, than she would be with a preacher. Then, too, most philanderers are good sports. They do not play with women to whom the game would not be worth the candle. I know of many cases where they have gone far out of their way to save young girls or silly wives from committing some folly.

"The married men who have affairs with the girls who work for them are not often bona fide philanderers. In most cases these men are the husbands of women who have nagged them into desperation. The poor fellows have always been as good they did not know how to go about an affair, or realize their danger, and they made it a tragedy. Instead of being adept at playing at love, they were such novices that they did not realize that the close daily contact they had with the girls in their offices, plus the sharing of little confidences, was rousing passions that neither they nor the girls had the experience to control. I think these men suffer as much as the girls do.

"In reality men who are adept at love-making are almost as scarce as women, and I have found that it takes a real perseverance to find a woman who has mastered the art."

Doubtless this is true. Possibly just as few men and women play a really scientific love game as play a professional game of golf or tennis or bridge, but why prostitute the noblest emotion that can animate the human breast by substituting for it a synthetic passion?

Why amuse oneself with a sport whose counters are bleeding hearts? The philandering husbands and wives live too late. They belong in the days when men and women took their pleasure in watching the agonies of those torn to pieces by wild beasts.

Certainly there are men who are born philanderers, gay butterflies who flit from flower to flower in the rosebud garden of pretty girls, gathering honey from every lip. It may be that it is not in their light and frivolous nature to be true to any woman, or to have any sense of responsibility, and that no woman, no matter what her charms and virtues, could hold one of them long.

Such a man must always have change, variety, something to give him a new thrill, but this being the case, why does he ever marry? What makes him cruel enough to take a woman's life into his hands only to break it?

For the philanderer deceives himself when he thinks he pays his wife for his disloyalty by giving her a good home and a liberal dress allowance and ordering the confectioner and the florist to send her up a box of chocolates or a bunch of posies.

No woman so dull as not to know conscience money. No woman so humble as to have an appetite for the crumbs of attention that fall from another woman's table. No woman on earth who willingly shares her husband with other women.

Let no philanderer fool himself for a minute by thinking that his wife condones his affairs with other women. Pride may keep her from reproaching him with them, but every one rangles in her memory as an unforgivable insult. She may welcome him back with a smile, but there is death in her heart, and when she has come to understand him well enough not to care about his flirtations, it is because she knows him for so poor a thing that she has ceased to care for him at all.

And what price philandering? Real love slain by treachery. A wife who has a contempt for you because she regards you as a weakling who cannot resist women. A wife who has no faith in you. Men looking upon you as a petticoat-chaser. Jaded emotions. The taste of a thousand lipsticks on your mouth, and at last an old man trying to rejuvenate his exhausted passions, combing his thin hair over the bald spot on his head, trying still to be a lady-killer after his technique is outmoded.

Believe me, Mr. Philanderer, philandering doesn't pay.
